1. A Liberal civilian has stated that sub-officials of the Colombian Army plan to overthrow the government and expel its Conservative leaders this week.
2. According to a second source, there are at least twelve active officers who would be unwilling to support the government in the event of a coup although they are not known to be involved in the plot. Source did not name the men.
3. The Colombian Minister of Government, Luis Ignacio Andrade, is confident that the government has Army support and will be able to maintain order. He is counting on a Liberal split between the supporters of Dario Echandia and Carlos Lleras Restrepo to make possible an agreement on Conservative terms.
